

Stranger approaches boy outside Fort Worth elementary

by Diane Smith

Published February 21, 2008

FORT WORTH -- A stranger apparently approached a 10-year-old Meadowbrook Elementary School student Monday shortly after school was out and asked whether the boy needed a ride home, according to the Fort Worth school district.

The boy left the school, 4330 Meadowbrook Drive, from the south exit about 3 p.m. The man approached him outside, said Barbara Griffith, spokeswoman for the district.

"The little boy immediately ran away from him," Griffith said.